About the competition:

The Saudi Center for Commercial Arbitration is organizing the 3rd SCCA Arabic Moot (International Edition). The competition is directed to undergraduate students in the Sharia and law schools in all interested universities around the globe. The participants will compete by arguing, in Arabic, a hypothetical commercial arbitration case that simulates international commercial cases, thus honing the legal and personal skills that participants need in order to argue in front of international arbitration tribunals. The SCCA Arabic Moot will also enhance the participants' personal, cognitive, and legal abilities, as well as highlight their capabilities and allow them to compete on an international stage.
